THE BODY SHOP SUPPORTS AUTISM

The Body Shop in Regents Centre, Hamilton sold raffle tickets in aid of the South Lanarkshire branch of The National Autistic Society (SLNAS) during May. Over 100 tickets were sold, raising £60 for the group. A lucky customer won a basket of The Body Shop products.

Nikki Lister, manager said, "Having worked with people with autism in the past, I am delighted to be able to help out SLNAS."

Lesley Burns, fundraising officer for SLNAS said, "We would like to thank Nikki and all The Body Shop customers for their support. The money raised will go towards assisting families in South Lanarkshire who are affected by autism and Asperger syndrome."

Around an estimated 3,000 people of all ages in South Lanarkshire are affected. SLNAS has over 150 members throughout Rutherglen, Cambuslang, Hamilton, Strathaven and East Kilbride. We aim to provide support to the whole family, through providing opportunities for social contact both for parents, carers and affected individuals alike. We also have a good proportion of professional members who work with people with autism and Asperger syndrome.

Parents, grandparents and carers of a child or an adult with an autistic spectrum disorder are welcome to come to our meetings, as are professionals who work with people with autism. Our next meeting is to be held on Wednesday 11th August in the County Court Suite, Civic Centre, East Kilbride. Further information can be accessed on our website www.slnas.org.uk or by calling Linda Johnson on 07866 530955.

NOTES TO EDITORS:

About autism & Asperger syndrome

People who have autism or Asperger syndrome are said to have a 'triad' of impairments. Both conditions are commonly referred to as autistic spectrum disorders or ASD. This is because all people with the condition tend to be affected in different ways and to differing degrees of severity. It is a lifelong developmental disability, affecting around 500,000 people in the UK.

People with an ASD find communication difficult and often fail to understand the subtleties of language that the rest of us take for granted. Some never acquire speech. Body language and facial expressions are a mystery.

Perhaps because of this, people with ASD do not seek to interact socially with others and are often seen as 'loners' and have difficulty in making and keeping friends. Thirdly, people with ASD can have problems with imagination. This leads them to seek repetitive activities and predictable routines. This makes them seem very rigid in their everyday lives, as change is very difficult for them to deal with. Challenging behaviour can also be an issue as affected people are frustrated by their lack of understanding and lack of ability to make themselves understood.

Autism is often referred to as an 'invisible' condition. Because there are no physical traits, people with ASD can appear to others to be aloof, arrogant, rude, anti-social and badly or oddly behaved. People with ASD are unaware that their behaviour comes across in this way and often do not understand that others have thoughts and feelings too.

How We Help

South Lanarkshire NAS group aims to help through regular monthly meetings. These are held on the second Wednesday of the month in the District Court Suite, Civic Centre, East Kilbride. Our next meetings are on the 12th of May and the 9th of June.

We also wish to provide opportunities for social contact for the children and to allow them to share experiences with the whole family. This can be very stressful for parents and siblings, particularly in situations where the general public do not understand why a seemingly normal child is behaving in an inappropriate manner. Therefore we provided a visit to a pantomime before Christmas 2003. The entire audience was made up of our group which meant that parents could relax, knowing that they were in company that understood any behavioural issues, while the children got to enjoy a night out at the theatre.

A fundraising "Mock Auction" held in February raised over £2000. These funds will be used to provide a summer trip for our member's families.
